New Quizno's Opens: New Eatery in Concourse B at Louisville International Airport

Louisville, Ky. (November 20, 2006) – A new Quizno's opened today in Concourse B at Louisville International Airport. Quizno's—the first of a two-part initiative by airport food and beverage concessionaire Cass Host Joint Venture to upgrade food service in the airport terminal—will offer nine sandwiches, four dinner and two side salads, soups and chili, as well as a morning breakfast menu.

Airport Executive Director Skip Miller commented, "The Airport Board and staff continually seek opportunities to make Louisville International Airport the airport of choice for air travelers in the region. Our travelers requested hot food choices near the gates and Quizno's responds to that request."

"We've hired sixteen people to staff the new Quizno's," announced Wayne Eddy, Host's General Manager at Louisville International Airport. The new staff began training last week and tested service this past weekend.

The next step in offering healthier and additional hot food choices near the gate is the opening of the first seated-service restaurant beyond the security checkpoint in early 2007. The new restaurant, named Waterfront Restaurant Bar and Grill, will be next to Quizno's in Concourse B.
