Frontier Airlines Returns to Louisville

Louisville, KY (April 19, 2010)—Louisville Mayor Jerry Abramson, Frontier Airline’s Vice President of planning and strategy Daniel Shurz and Chairman of the Louisville Regional Airport Authority Board Phil Lynch celebrated the return of Frontier Airline’s nonstop jet service to Denver.

“Our customers and Louisville’s business community needed more service to the West—and our airport leaders found a way to make it happen,” said Mayor Jerry Abramson.

“It’s great to be back in Louisville,” said Daniel Shurz, Frontier Airline’s Vice President of planning and strategy. With nonstop flights to our Denver and Milwaukee hubs, Louisville customers now can connect to Frontier’s destinations across the United States and to Mexico and Costa Rica.”

“With this service, Louisville International Airport will offer nonstop jet service to 17 of our region’s top 20 destinations,” said Phil Lynch, Board Chairman. This is yet another clear recognition by airlines that Louisville is an important market.”
