Derby 2012 at Bowman Field

The 2012 Kentucky Derby was a busy time at Bowman Field (LOU) as staff enhanced landscaping and prepared for the MetLife Blimp that provided aerial footage of this year's Run for the Roses.

For the second year, LOU hosted the Kentucky Derby Festival Great Balloon Rush Hour Race the weekend before Derby; 35 balloons participated in this year's event. (The Great Balloon Race was also scheduled to be held at Bowman, but was canceled due to unfavorable weather.)

At race time on Derby Day, Bowman Field hosted 118 general aviation aircraft—a 40 percent increase from last year.
